HONGRONG, JANUARY 18TH, 1871

The movement which is taking place with regard to Missionary enterprise; at and near Foochow, is worthy of some consideration. It appears, according to a Northern contemporary, that the natives intend paying their own pastors; and, in fact, are following out reason for this haste, which is much to be being now resident in the Colony, but having the traditionary policy among Chinese, of taking everything in band themselves as soon as they think they are independent of their foreign teachers. As they have learnt from us the way to conduct foreign business and to construct foreign vessels and arms, so they consider that they can conduct Missionary enterprises independently of foreign rastors. This movement is regarded by the Daily News as one favourable to the Missionary cause. It is considered that by its board on which it had been laid to the cold means, Christianity will be freed from the floor, and the professor inserted a portion of a against a religion which is identified with dose was mixed with water before heing nd. the hills. Besides it appeared that interest was both ends; we may now fairly supplement what foreigners and suspected of being the basis of political intrigue. In a certain degree this view is sound, but there is reason to fear that the satisfactory result hoped for will not be realised. The immediate effect of the measure will probably be much what our to 6 a.m. yesterday, when Dr. Young thought contemporary foreshadows. The officials will be glad to find that Christianity is not necessarily associated with foreigners, and will in all likelihood be induced to extend more tolerance to it, on that account. This would of course be a great gain both to the sanguing. Christian cause and to our political relations. if other circumstances did not arise to detract from its value. But it is to be feared that what Christianity in China will gain in extension, it will lose in purity, by the change which is now proposed. Indeed, there is reason to apprehend that if the Chinese commence to conduct Missionary business in the manner which appears to be indicated, it may end in a second uprising of a all the prisoners, except the first, being allowed suing unless the spirite were supplied to the how it is presible that so large an import can debates about militia and reserves and lordstravestie of Christianity such as was adopted four an buil to appear, if called by the Taipings. Probably, before many years, Christianity in putive hands would decenerate into one of the Kiss, or doctrines so humerous in China, and which are generally identified with political societies. If any one wishes | mg to the British barque Evelyn Wood, were to form an idea of the manner in which the sentenced to two mouths imprisonment with subject of Christianity is treated in native hard labour, convicted of having stolen hands, he will do well to refer to a little book published by Dr. Marin, and called "A short method with Chinese." It purports to be a short peam giving the main decrines and histories connected with the Christian religion, and was compiled by a native and charged them with their out of revenge.

fairly believed, had better be kept away from the Chinese altogether than presented to them in such a garb as this, and if such should be the result of the movement at present being inaugurated in Foothaw, which seems by no means improbable, it is to be fewed that that movement is scarcely a subject for congratulation.

Further, if the teaching of Christianity be soriously taken up by the Chinese themselves. independently of Foreign Pasters, there is means of furthering the objects of political associations in the same way as was done by the Taipings. A travestis of Christianity which could be understood by the masses in Ohina would, from its presumed connection with foreigners, be a powerful weapon in the hands of political societies, as in point of fact it proved to be in the hands of the Taipings -and the likelihood is that a semi-Chinese for beloing himself, without permusion first version of Christianity would before long be found to be the ritual of some secret organisation, and that thus the false impression as to the nature of the Christian religion which has already been widely spread by the Thipings would become still further diffused over the Empire.

Such are some of the dangers which stand n the way of the apread of Christianity in hina, if the teaching be left entirely in native hauds: Anyone acquainted with the history of Taiping Christianity will admit that the fears above expressed are not without foundation; and such being the case. it is quite an open question whether the movement now taking place at Foochow is not calculated to lead to more harm than good, both in a religious and a political point of view.

We are informed that hopes are entertained that the Great Northern Telegraph Company will be able to complete laying their cable between Hongkong and Shanghai in the course of March. The delay which has occurred appears chiefly to have resulted from the impossibility of laying the wire except in weather which is comparaively oider, as the Monsoon either way intereres with the operations. It is hoped, however, that this difficulty will be overcome, and the aying of the cable completed by the time above EXTRAORDINARY WILL CASE. An interesting will case has been before the rish Court of Probate. The alleged testatrix, Miss Catherine Cheevers, of the county of Wesford, died a year ago, leaving property worth about £2,000. The will in question was dated on the day of her death, and was witnessed by Dr. Crean, the medical attendant of Miss Cheevers, and by one of her servants. The doctor, however, stated that the lady was unconscious at the time. that he endeavoured to rouse her, but failed to do so, and that he then wrote her name, and putting a pen into her hand, made a mark with it. In consequence of this statement the will was not propounded by the executor, the Rev. Laurence Kirkin, a Roman Catholic clergyman; and the case came before the court on an application of the brother of the deceased for letters, of administration. The doctor's explanation of the conduct was that he had been requested by the Rev. Laurence Kirwin to witness the will, and Bat, believing the revigentleman to have drawn it up, and knowing him to be a man of honour, he thought not with standing the unconscious state of the lady when her name was put to the will, that it was a legal document. The will support of convents and Roman Catholic schools and institutions. 'A few legacies were given to the relatives and £200 to the priest who wrote the will. Intimations A HEALTHY LIVER.

THE liver is a large gland; lying under the about ribe, on the right side. It is conver on the upper bide and concave on the under, and is composed of asveral lobes or divisions. Its office is to secrete bile-that is, to separate it from the blood. It weighs about four pounds, being the largest organ in the body. The tennatural action of the liver, and ultimately produce onlargement, bardening torpidity; and chronic inflammation of that organ. The symptoms indicating liver disease are as follows:

A scuse of fulness and weight in the right side, with some chlargement and pain, particularly when pressed; pains in one or both shoulders and under the shoulderbludes; disagreeable or painful feeling whon lying on the left side ; yellowness of the skin, eyes, and urine; bowels irregular, loose, or gostive; red veins through the eyes; sometimes a dry, hacking cough; shortness of breath; a bad taste in the mouth in the morning the urine deposits a sodimont, on standing; generally a low and desponding state of mind; the nervous system much distilrhed; disinclination to apply
